CEFR - Common European Framework of Reference The main purpose of the CEFR is to provide an acceptable assessment and teaching method for common European languages. Resolution No. PQ 1875 of December 13, 2012 "On measures to further improve the system of learning foreign languages." This document defines the teaching of foreign languages as a basic subject of education using ICT tools. We know that today science and technology are growing rapidly. Progress in every field is moving forward. Significant changes are taking place, especially in science. Delivering each subject to students using new innovative pedagogical technologies is one of the main requirements of today's education. At the same time, a lot of work is being done to find new ways to teach a foreign language and try it out in practice. In particular, after the adoption of the Resolution of the First President of the Republic of Uzbekistan Islam Abduganievich Karimov No. PP 1875 of December 13, 2012, the attention to teaching and learning foreign languages in our country has increased. A new stage, a new era in the teaching of foreign languages has begun in our country. The use of advanced pedagogical technologies, interactive, innovative methods, communicative media is required in the process of teaching foreign languages. In our country, new methods and requirements have been developed in accordance with the recommendations of the Pan-European Framework for Assessment of Foreign Language Teaching and Assessment of Knowledge and Skills of Foreign Language Teachers (CEFR). According to him, textbooks have been created for students of secondary schools and vocational colleges.

In accordance with these requirements, classrooms are equipped with stands and new information and communication technologies. Educational technology is the effective use of modern information technology in the educational process. It also aims to further improve the quality and effectiveness of education through the introduction of modern innovative technologies in the educational process. In particular, there are several advantages to using such information and communication technologies in learning a foreign language. The role of modern technology in language learning and teaching is invaluable. The use of technology is useful in every aspect of learning a foreign language (reading, writing, listening and speaking). For example, to listen and understand, of course, it is impossible to do this process without a computer, player, CDs. Listening is one of the most important parts of language learning. This requires the student to pay attention to the speaker's pronunciation, grammar, vocabulary, and meanings at the same time.

The use of modern technologies in education is also an important factor for students to be familiar with and use information and communication technologies. Teaching and learning a foreign language using modern technologies is one of the most effective ways. you can listen to and watch radio broadcasts and television programs. The use of these tools will make the process of learning a foreign language more interesting and effective. In the process of globalization, it is hard to imagine our lives without the internet. It is one of the most effective ways to learn and use a foreign language. You will be able to communicate with foreign speakers through the Internet. The most important issue is the introduction of modern communication technologies in the educational process, their purposeful and correct, effective use, through which to increase the interest of students in a foreign language, to increase the effectiveness of teaching. This will allow for the use of innovative educational technologies and increase demand.

There are several types of innovative educational technologies available today. When they are used extensively and in a variety of ways to cover a topic in the classroom, the effectiveness of the lesson is high and the interest of the students in the lesson is increased.

The use of a variety of role-playing, action-packed games in foreign language teaching can also increase interest in language learning in the classroom. Students work in pairs or small groups to help them communicate with others. When teaching a foreign language, it is useful to use graphic organizers to explain new words and grammar rules. These can be easily memorized by graphic organizers. The use of different tables in the process of teaching a foreign language is also very effective. Using tables in the learning process, students can follow a specific grammatical rule, such as composing sentences using modal verbs and placing new words. At a time when the need for learning a foreign language is high, the effective use of modern information technologies, innovative educational technologies in the educational process makes this process more effective. The effectiveness of innovative educational technologies lies in their correct and effective use in the educational process.
