INTRODUCTION

By the end of the twentieth century, English is a language of world importance status was finally strengthened. Knowledge of foreign languages today is becoming one of the integral parts of professional education. In various fields experts have a high rate of cooperation with foreign partners because they have a high demand for language learning. Modern foreign languages are becoming an important component of professional education in society. Such people acquire knowledge first at school, college, lyceum, and then at institutions the main one that helps to learn a foreign language in courses or independently they learn by familiarizing themselves with data sets.

LITERATURE ANALYSIS AND METHODS

Teaching and learning English in the research process is popular methods, internet sources were used. During the writing of the article, the principles of theoretical-deductive conclusion, analysis and synthesis, logicity were used.

DISCUSSION AND RESULTS

Language is the main means of communication, without which the existence and development of human society hard to imagine. In our world today in social relations communication media (information technologies) requires improving students' communicative skills, they are different in the process of interaction with other participants of the dialogue exchange ideas in situations, use language and speech norms correctly is enough. In such conditions, the main purpose of foreign language is communicative ability forming, that is, carrying out interpersonal and intercultural communication in a foreign language increase is required. Studying it in most schools around the world became mandatory and the teaching methodology developed by leaps and bounds started The reason for the emergence of the first method of independent English language learning. Not everyone has the opportunity to attend the courses. Later,

Many authors have developed an effective English language learning program on their own tried to create, but we will focus on the 4 most popular.

1. Schechter's method

This method of learning English is a classical model "from theory to practice". rather than based on the opposite, more natural system of perception. This is how our mother tongue is very similar to our learning. The author teaches young children how to speak gives an example - after all, no one builds them sentences, situations and parts of speech does not explain the rules. In the same way Igor Yuryevich Shekhter English offers to learn. The essence of the modern way of learning English is that from the first lesson, students are given a certain task, for example study the interlocutor's profession. In addition, all students play so-called "etudes", where they act in different roles and they try to solve the problem. The level of language proficiency was about the same since communication takes place between people, between teacher and student the fear of using foreign speech that appears in communication disappears. This technique of the English language consists of three stages: the first is lexical units, words and phrases are given, and only then the second and third the use of grammatical and syntactic structures is corrected at the stage. The system itself has repeatedly confirmed its effectiveness, and currently educational psychologists is one of the most successful in terms of

2. Pimsler method Dr. Paul Pimsler not only perceives information, but processes it developed a special system of thirty-minute lessons designed for release came out Each lesson is told by two people: our compatriot and a native English native speaker. Thanks to this and special memorization technology each student learns hundreds of English words and phrases for each lesson. The essence of the lesson is a sequence of assignments given by the lecturers is to perform.

The undoubted advantages of the technique include its mobility - you you can perform audio tasks anywhere: when you're stuck in traffic, on your way to work, on the subway on your way to a meeting, or before bed when you are in bed. The downside is high-quality pronunciation and knowledge acquisition there will be no test.

3. Dragunkin's method The peculiarity of the system of Alexander Nikolayevich Dragunkin is any in learning a foreign language, the focus is on the native Russian language. English very boldly

The author called it simple, its roots are in the old Russian language, especially grammatical emphasizes that it goes back to the system of time. Dragunkin course students in Russian letters learn new words transcribed and grammatical constructions not the 12 tenses known to us from school, but past, present, future and divided into their changes.

Alexander Nikolaevich has his own network of schools, in which you can find three types you can master courses: basic, short and conversation. For independent education featuring a linguist's innovative approach to language learning, "A Little The book "Leap into English" is offered. Using his system, you in English you can easily understand the use of verbs, the use of articles you can memorize the rules and easily master the basic principles of sentence construction. Nevertheless, the Dragunkin method has many negatives has comments that criticize pronunciation and insufficient theoretical knowledge.

4. Petrov method Dmitry Petrov says that you can learn English in 16 hours.

True, the author once again clarifies that we are a citizen born in Great Britain level, we are not talking about mastering the language, but about basic knowledge. His lessons survive the immersion in an English-speaking environment enough to stay, explain your needs and understand the answer.

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

In conclusion, it should be said that modern language teaching is more cultural is aimed at the formation of a person, it involves self-analysis and new knowledge having systematization skills. Innovative methods throughout the system is an integral part of modernization. For sure, teachers are the most get acquainted with advanced approaches and later combine them and their own it is possible to achieve significant growth in the education system by using it. Many organizations use multimedia capabilities to send and receive information is moving to a new level using From computers and other devices use determines the success of the entire educational process.

Speech skills in trainings during the educational process sufficient attention should be paid to the formation and development of social flexibility need In addition, the success of each lesson in education has many aspects it depends on the correct organization of training. The lesson belongs to the teacher and the student should be based on creative cooperation. Only then students can think independently they receive, their will is trained.
